The new induction unit Salvis Compactline

Oftringen, 11 January 2017: The Salvis Compactline table-top unit combines multifunction, efficiency and flexibility. State-of-the-art induction technology allows maximum convenience and operating safety.

Salvis Compactline is the cost efficient entry level into induction technology, with convincing quality and simple elegance. The easy rotary switch allows fast and energy saving operation of the state-of-the-art induction technology. An eye catcher in front cooking areas, in bistros and kitchens that cook with fresh ingredients. Efficient wherever energy is required quickly without putting strain on the environment with unnecessary heat emission. The table-top induction unit features one cooking zone and two power variants. These provide the user with an optimum selection depending on requirements.

Very easy handling, high cooking power and maximum convenience and operating safety.
